Inspired by our jaunts overseas where oil drums in varying stages of deterioration greeted us at every turn, we created our own replicas of the discs carved from the tops (or bottoms) as edgy decorative elements. Though the patina we achieved with our gold leaf finish may convince you that these are made of metal, the Gold Cast Oil Drum Wall Discs, which are packaged as a set of four, are made of composite that our artisans made to look jagged like real aging metal would. This set of circular wall art is the perfect representation of the Phillips Collection ethos: modern organic. We also offer the discs in rust, silver leaf, liquid gold, and liquid silver.
