As the deva of intellect and wisdom, Ganesha is one of the most well known deities in the Hindu pantheon. While he is known for many things, Ganesha's elephant head is by far his most distinctive feature. The Ganesha Head Lava Relief is a dimensional sculpture crafted from ceramic and finished in lava stone, then placed within a wooden frame. The iconic elephant head is on full display surrounded amongst horizontal etchings that contain small hints of silver leaf. The light tone of the wood contrasts with the darker hue of the sculpture, creating a light interplay within the peace that stirs intrigue and instills a sense of tranquility.
